

Who will feed the kids this weekend?

<http://blessingsinabackpack.org>

The Blessings in a Backpack program continues at Talbott Springs Elementary School. Our goal is to ensure children do not go hungry on the weekends by empowering individuals, partners and communities to make certain that all students who are in need receive nourishment for the weekend through our Blessings in a Backpack program. This year our staff continues to deliver food to over 80 students who have food insecurities every week.

Our Blessings in a Backpack program needs your support through donations to make certain that every child receives the nourishment they need to learn and grow. One hundred and thirty dollars will feed one child for the school year. With generous donations from our community partners, family donors, and individuals we were able to deliver food to our students over the summer months. Through your generous donations we will achieve our goal and continue to provide weekend meals to our students.

To donate please visit: <http://blessingsinabackpack.org>. Go to the donate tab, designation section and type in Talbott Springs Elementary school. All donations are tax deductible.

We are truly grateful for all of the Blessings donations we have received and continue to receive to help feed the students over the weekend.

Thank you for being a Weekend Warrior on behalf of TSES students.
